YOUR LOCAL GOVERNMENT INFORMATION STATION

Vineyard City has elected officials and staff who work hard each day to assure that the City is running and developing smoothly and that your needs as a resident are being met. However, local government can sometimes be a bit of a mystery to those who aren't involved in it daily. So we've created GOV101 to demystify it a bit. Every month, you can come here to find out more about what your local government does everyday to make Vineyard great!

GRAMA REQUESTS

The City Recorder's Office is responsible for agendas, minutes, ordinances, resolutions, records retention and management, municipal elections, business licensing, and other administrative functions.

One function of our office is receiving and ensuring that records requests are filled. The Government Records Access and Management Act, commonly known as GRAMA, was established by the state of Utah to allow the public to make a request for a record from the appropriate Utah governmental entity. This act can be found in 63G-2 of the Utah State Code.

Almost all government records are subject to request. Upon receipt of a request the governmental entity will determine the classification and provide the records and/or a response.

HOW TO FILL OUT A REQUEST

A person making a request must submit a written request to the City Recorder who will send it to the department that maintains the desired record. The request must include your name, address, telephone number, email address, and a specific description of the records requested. The request can be submitted by email, U. S. mail or in person. Links to our forms can be found on our website under the Recorder page.

HELPFUL TIPS

GRAMA requests are designed to provide records, not answers to questions. Make sure they are specific and concise in order for us to quickly locate and identify the records requested. According to the state law you should receive a response from us as soon as reasonably possible but no more than 10 business days.

Requests may have fees associated with them depending on how the record has to be retrieved and any copying costs.

We recommend you check out our website before submitting a records request, as many records can be found there.

We have no shortage of information on how your local government works that we want to share with you, but if there is something specific you'd like to learn more about, please reach out to us by phone at (801) 226-1929 or by email at info@vineyardutah.org.

MUNICIPAL GENERAL ELECTION

This year's Municipal General Election will be held to elect two (2) City Council members. Declaration of Candidacy Filing period begins August 13 and runs through August 20 during normal business hours.

On December 12, 2018 and again on April 10, 2019, the Vineyard City Council voted to participate in the Municipal Alternate Voting Methods pilot project for the 2019 Municipal Elections. This voting method is better known as ranked choice voting. Because of this decision and the changes in legislation this year, the declaration of candidacy period changes to August. The City Recorder's office will be open:

Tuesday, August 13 through Tuesday, August 20 - 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM - excluding weekends.

The doors close promptly at 5:00 PM on August 20. Please do not wait until the last minute to file.

CODE ENFORCEMENT

An Accessory Dwelling Unit or ADU is a space (commonly a basement) which can be rented out. ADUs are regulated by the city to ensure a safe and standard renting experience for renters and prevent overcrowding by parking on streets. In order to create a home into an ADU it must have a separate entrance, be less than half of the square footage of the house, and provide two additional off-street parking spaces which are designated specifically for ADU use. The owner or the house must also live on the same property which is being rented out. For questions or to view specific in relation to ADUs please visit our code section Vineyard Zoning Code 15.34.060.

HERITAGE COMMISSION CORNER

HOW "SWEET" BECAME A FINAL PRODUCT

Last month you read of how sugar beets were harvested with back-breaking labor. This month you'll read how these beets made it to the processing plant. Once the beet wagons had been drawn by horses through the fields and were full, they would go to the "slicer" where a chain mechanism hooked one side of the wagon and lifted it off the chassis, dumping the beets from the side of the wagon (the first side dumpers), into a hopper. A "tare man", took a sample of the load, cleaned it and estimated, based on how much the sample weighed (a tare), how much the load weighed. Beets were then stored in several large sheds on site. When processing began, the beets were pulled from the sheds and into the factory by a stream of water from a nearby canal. The beets were further washed and tumbled, then moved by conveyor, from which all rocks, sticks, and other debris were removed (by hand), then to the slicer. The beets were then sliced and cooked in very hot water, and the resulting pulp sent to a battery of tanks, where the pulp was steamed, and the juice extracted. The juice then was sent by pipeline to the Lehi sugar plant for further processing into sugar. Sugar beets remained a popular cash crop until the mid-1970's when smaller factories started to close and larger ones in surrounding states, using more modern machinery could raise and process sugar beets more economically. Sugar beet production in the Vineyard area was replaced with Alfalfa, grain and silage corn crops.
